RAILWAY ENTERPRISE.

The Louisville, Harrodsburg and Vir-ginia Railroad. On Wednesday (to-morrow), the people o Spencer county vote upon the proposition t inhacribe three hundred thousand dollars in city, via Harrodsburg, to Norfolk, Virginia. The road is such an obvious necessity, and so vastly important to all the counties along its line, that we cannot permit ourselves to doubt that Spencer will vote the subscription almost nnanimously, and that her good ex ample will be followed by her sister counties. Since the charter was obtained, which was mit us to print a tri-weekly edition, and hereafter | March 9, 1868, the commissioners of the Louis ville, Harrodeburg and Virginia railroad has organized and employed an engineer, Mr. H M. Patton, and made a recommoissance of the country from Louisville to Cumberland Gap; also from Louisville to Pound Gap, both sni veys going through Taylorsville and Harrodsbary The surveys were made at considera time, as the engineer has only within a few weeks returned from his last exenssion, having carefully examined from Harrodsburg east, the counties of Garrard, Madison, Jacks wsley, Clay, Perry, Breathitt and Letcher, in a few days. The edition of each paper was all of which the people are aroused to the importance of a direct railroad connection with Louisville and Virginia, and will, as soon as propriations. The read is not only of local importance, but it traverses some of as good in isolated portion of the State within a few fine timber that are so shundant in the eastern counties of Kentucky, and that will be so useful to our city.
